The Truth for Once

An authoritarian paper published in Tokyo warns the United States it is "dangerous" for that country to consider amending its neutrality law and taking a firm stand against aggression. Premier Mussolini's man Gayda has been telling Britain and France they are provoking disturbance of the peace in trying to form a group of anti-aggression states in Europe. Chancellor Hitler's personal organ says it is positively "dangerous" to let Greece and Turkey into the defensive ring.

Their admissions are of course inspired. Their unanimity is conspicuous. If the non-aggressive states are looking for advice they do not have to look far. Any and all the spokesmen for the warmakers are more than willing to supply it, and they all supply the same brand. To wit, that it is "dangerous" for the intended victims to band together for mutual protection. To do so is to invite the wrath of the conquerors ones.

And in this particular there is no doubt these peddlars of deception are disclosing the truth. The bullies do not like to see peaceful nations gang up to resist their onslaught. They would much rather deal with these separately—as they did with China, Ethiopia, Czechoslovakia, Spain and Albania.

Thinking It Over

The policy announced by Hon. J. G. Gardner to assist in the readjustment of western agriculture is too comprehensive for strict judgment. It has been received generally with a reserve even on the part of those who were outspoken in criticism of the 80-cent advance price for wheat when this seemed to stand alone as a substitute for the 80-cent pegged price. The acreage bonus is recognized as an important supplementing factor.

One official of a farm organization points out that, as the bonus will be payable in respect to crops of all kinds, farmers will not be tempted—as they are under the pegged price system—to stop growing coarse grains and concentrate on wheat. That is a matter of importance to the farmer who is exclusively engaged in wheat growing, as to the one who is not. It may in practice go a good way to make up to the wheat-grower the difference between the 80-cent pegged price and the 60-cent advance proposed.

One thing indicated by this guarded reception of the scheme is a growing recognition that western farming can no longer be considered as synonymous with wheat-growing. That point conceded, the argument is plain that encouragement given to other branches of farming will also react to help the farmer who is so situated that wheat must be his main crop.

Speaking of Deficits

Official figures given out at Berlin show the debt of Germany was increased $4,000,000,000 during the last year. That the figures are published is in itself significant. It is a long time since German taxpayers were last told precisely the position of the country's finances. The inference is that the secrecy rule has been broken to show matters are not as bad as they were rumored to be.

A heavy increase in the nation's debt is now known to the rest of the country is being swamped, or its money is spent. Where the increase represents money spent into wealth-producing enterprises it only means that the national investment has been enlarged, and if the enterprises prove to be self-sustaining, the nation benefits.

But in the case of Germany a large part of this $4,000,000,000 deficit can represent nothing but the cost of maintaining and increasing military forces and using these for the intimidation and subjugation of neighboring countries. This investment is not productive, and it is doubtful if the acquisition of Czechoslovakia is any substantial offset to the loss.

A point to be noted is that Mr. Hitler is not an inflationist. He has consistently denounced a disproportionate increase in the money supply as a rook to ruin. The $4,000,000,000, it is therefore to be assumed, means $4,000,000,000.

"How May Peace Be Had?"

In his Easter message to "individuals, peoples and rulers," Pope Pius XII launched a terrible rebuke in the form of a question when he asked: "How may peace be had if, unfortunately, even among nations there frequently is lacking the mutual comprehension which alone may encourage and impel people along luminous ways of civil progress, while pacts solemnly sanctioned and plighted word have lost that security and value which are indispensable bases of reciprocal confidence and without which ardently desired disarmament, material and moral, becomes with each passing day less possible of realization?"

Two days before, one of the "rulers" had struck down a small country with which his country was at peace, with which he had pledged his word and from which he had nothing to fear. Even while it may be hoped, Premier Mussolini listened to these meaningful words, his soldiers were shooting down Albanians without cause for war, without declaration of war, and in violation of his solemn pledges to the Albanians and to Great Britain. Black as that crime was, more completely lacking in plausible pretext than the destruction of Czechoslovakia, the crime behind these crimes is blacker yet.

To launch death and wounds and misery upon people without provocation is barbaric. To strangle a little country is dastardly. But to assassinate the mutual confidence that makes it possible for nations to live together in peace is fiendish.

"How may peace be had?" when the very foundation of peace is destroyed? What government today dare take the word of Mussolini or Hitler or their Japanease ally for anything? They have written "Fraud" across the face of every pact to which they have set their hands. That is their greater crime. Who can have confidence in deceit and believe the word of self-advertised pledge-breakers? There is no basis on which to make bargains with them; and without bargains made and kept between nations "world peace" can be nothing better than the armed suspicion it is today.

But as a strategic move, this much-arranged and much-devised combination is a pretty feeble answer to the state of Britain, France and Poland.

It indicates that the tactics the dictators are similar to the rule followed by careless and inept bridge-builders which is—when in doubt play a deuce—Vancouver Sun.

Current Comment

Winnipeg's Troubles

From the discussion of Winnipeg's financial difficulties it is clear that the first place may be sought for relief. In the first place, according to the Goldenberg Commission, $1,000,000 which has been going into the sinking fund could be diverted to the budget. In the second place, a reduction of the budget of the city of $750,000 for relief this year, in one way or another. In the third place, no matter how the relief money is found, the city council still has a deficit of $1,000,000 to overcome before it can balance its budget for this year—Winnipeg Free Press.

The Next Day, It Happened

It is significant of the attitude of the Berlin gang that the first positive move in reply to Chamberlain's denunciation of Herr Hitler should be to run away from Signor Mussolini to occupy Albania.

Albania is a poor and productive region inhabited by no more than one million people. Its occupation by the Italians would establish a strategic fortress, not only vital to Italy, in fact, an invasion by the Italian legions would be less in the nature of the lightning a thorn into the Allies' side than of thrusting Italian fingers into the Allies' rat trap.

In this, the Italian occupation of Albania, although protected on the pretense of protecting Italian interests, is really a disguised attempt to place Indian troops in a position of great danger and in the remote event of a general war.

From the dictators' standpoint, there is a certain military value in this. It provides the excitement. It keeps up the martial spirit in Germany and Italy where no greater disaster could happen to the dictators than an opportunity for their people to sit down quietly and think.

But as a strategic move, this much-arranged and much-devised combination is a pretty feeble answer to the state of Britain, France and Poland.

It indicates that the tactics the dictators are similar to the rule followed by careless and inept bridge-builders which is—when in doubt play a deuce—Vancouver Sun.

Speed

Attorney-General Wismer, quite properly and wisely, is throwing out feelings in advance of the time when he will propose at the next session of the legislature.

He favors an extension of the present legislation which imposes an absolute maximum of thirty miles an hour in all the built-up areas of the city. He does not believe the high road, he would fix a minimum speed of 30 miles an hour by day and of 20 miles an hour by night.

Mr. Wismer may confidently expect a great deal of grumbling in certain quarters at these proposals but what he ought to have is the strong support and co-operation of the responsible motoring citizenship.

There is no doubt that his timetable will stand up to the test of the critics.

Rimby Youth Escapes Injury In Car Mishap

Clarence Wright, 18, of Bentley was driving a 1937 Buick Sunday afternoon when he lost control of the car, property of the Parks garage at Lacombe, on the Lacombe highway, one mile west of Bentley. The car had been driven to Bentley by his father, Mr. L. J. Wright. It is thought that young Wright took the car without permission of his father and had the car get out of control. The speed limit on the trees were cut down, a fence crossed and more complicated somersaults taken before the car came to a stop. It was demolished beyond repair. Wright sustained a minor cut on the face.

Rimby Students Receive Lessons In Home Nursing

Rimby high school girls were instructed in practical home nursing lessons by Mrs. H. H. Hough, head of the nursing staff when they made a tour through the institution.

That Viking district can raise highest prices is shown by the fact that W. C. Bissell, Hereford bull and bull sales, $1,225.00. Mr. Bissell is president of the provincial Hereford Breeders' Association, and vice-president of the Hereford Breeders' Association.

Horses are being vaccinated against equine encephalomyelitis in this district. Quite a few horses have been vaccinated by the instructor of Miss Mollie McLees of the Rimby school staff. The vaccination consists of bandaging, recognition of minor ailments and diseases, such as menses, acne, etc., and application of simple remedies employed in home nursing.

Wednesday half-holidays in the business section commenced this week and will continue during the months of April, May, June and August.

Canadian Girls in Training of the United church at Rimby held a delightful social evening in the Eskimo hall. The girls were invited by their invited a girl friend to accompany her to the party. Mrs. J. F. McLean and Mrs. G. H. Hough are the adult leaders of the C.G.I.T. at Rimby.

Impressive Easter services were held at nine in the morning of Easter Sunday at Rimby when the church was officially opened recently when the Legion and Auxiliary had a hand in beautifying the church.

Guest speakers during the evening were Alex Walker, president of the Canadian Legion, Alberta and Mr. W. B. Burland, president of the Canadian Auxiliary and Mr. W. B. Burland, president of the Canadian Legion. Mr. Walker presented a sacred pageant and a program of music.

LOUDON

A special public meeting was held in the Community Hall here yesterday for parents of school children at which it was decided that all children going to school on June 1st, after the Royal Visit, should leave their names with F. B. Hill in the latter's office.

A test will be held in the school shortly to determine if the children should be inoculated against diphtheria and vaccinated for smallpox again.

A large number of horses in the district are being vaccinated for sleeping sickness.

A few farmers have already started to plow the fields, but they have been halted by snow and cold weather.

CHAMBERLAIN EXPECTED GIVE GUARANTEES

Foreign Office Reported Drafting Pact For Greece, Turkey

By J. R. MCNAUL

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 12—Prime Minister Chamberlain is expected to announce military guarantees to Greece and Turkey when he makes a speech to the House of Commons in a special meeting of the House of Commons tonight.

Expects pact to be signed

The prime minister also is expected to say that he will be from Rome to withdraw Italian troops from Spain immediately after Germany's entry into war.

He will be in Madrid May 2.

CONDEN FORCE

Mr. Chamberlain will likely demand Italy's use of force against Albania, but the British treasury will not be denuded. It is becomingly apparent that Italy will be asked to stand alone to prove his willingness to observe the status quo in the Mediterranean.

The may produce a first-class row in the house, with Labor and Liberal members demanding stronger action against Italy.

The Turkish ambassador, the British Ambassador, called at the Foreign Office yesterday and was reported to have left word that his government was ready to accept any guarantee Britain was willing to give.

GREEKS WILLING

It was understood, though not officially confirmed, that the Greeks had agreed to the British suggestion to accept a British guarantee.

Some diplomatic circles believed the proposed Greek guarantee would be more specific than Turkey's and that all countries bordering the Mediterranean would be partially covered. The British, however, could not remain indifferent to any attempt to change the status quo there.

The inaction in the projected Greek-Turkish guarantee was expected to be that Britain will remain neutral, but the hope is that the independence of Greece is threatened. In the British pledge to stand by the Poles decide that question.

Prime Minister Chamberlain was roundly criticized by the Labor and Liberal members for supporting his "another chance" policy toward Premier Mussolini in Mediterranean.

The New Zealand (Liberal) and the united support of the country which Mr. Chamberlain secured by the pledge to Poland was not immediately accepted by the Laborites of peace through strength destroyed if any action he took now appeared to be a reversal of the policy of one-sided appeasement."

They are afraid (Labor) declared: "It may be that the Poles decide that even the government may be pre-

Intimidation Of Workers By Employers To Be Made Criminal Offence

OTTAWA, April 12—Intimidation of workers by their employers will be made a criminal offence if possible in a bill introduced in the House of Commons Tuesday by R. H. Lapointe, Lapointe, Minister of Justice.

For several years U. S. Woodcock, C.C.F. member, has spoken a great deal to make it easier to interfere with the right of workers to organize. Mr. Lapointe said he had been unable to find it possible in affecting the change he wanted.

Other amendments to the criminal code insert the words "air" and "airmen" in all sections dealing with military matters.

There were no forces asked. Mr. Lapointe speaks in the hours.

The prime minister also is expected to say that he will be from Rome to withdraw Italian troops from Spain immediately after Germany's entry into war.

Mr. Lapointe's bill would add another sub-section to section 802 of the code. This makes it an indictable offence for a person to refuse to accept his job for the same reason.

The offence is enhanced and is made to apply in the amendment, to "any employer or his agent, who wrongfully and without lawful cause, threatens to make it difficult for a member of a lawful trade union or a member of a lawful association or combination of workers or employers to be employed for the purpose of advancing his interests and organized for the protection of wages and conditions of work."

(B) Seeks by intimidation, or by actual loss or position or employment, or by threat or promise, to compel workers or employees to remain from belonging to a trade union or from having an association or combination to which they have lawful right to belong.

TO CONFISCATE

(C) Confiscates, combines, agrees or arranges with any other employer or his agent to do any of the things mentioned in the preceding paragraphs.

The penalty for conviction is a fine of $100 or three months in jail. If the company is a corporation, the penalty is a fine not exceeding $1,000.

Two Dentists Report Gold Filling Theft

Two dentists reported to police

Dr. Leslie McIntyre, 500 Taylor building, told police that some time during the holiday weekend a number of gold crowns and bridges and a gold ring were stolen from a drawer in his office.

Dr. John H. Miller, 400 Taylor building, reported that two gold crowns were stolen from a drawer in his office some time during the holiday weekend.

Doors of both offices were locked, and the thieves evidently picked or slipped the locks to gain entrance.

Another 50 dentists are scheduled to report to police, and certainly nothing is not prepared to place any reliance on Mussolini's word.

They are afraid (Labor) declared: "It may be that the Poles decide that even the government may be prepared to accept his job for the same reason.

The Manchester Guardian's (Liberal) diplomatic correspondent observed:

"Indications are that the western powers are losing time with the Spanish situation.

The Spanish situation is regarded with the greatest apprehension in Britain, and the British cabinet prefers to wait and see what the Poles do.

The Daily Express (Independent) and the British guarantee of Greek integrity would arouse no "fuss" from Germany.

The Manchester Guardian's (Liberal) diplomatic correspondent observed:

"Indications are that the western powers are losing time with the Spanish situation.

The Spanish situation is regarded with the greatest apprehension in Britain, and the British cabinet prefers to wait and see what the Poles do.

Democracy will instruct the young hunters on the use and care of firearms, and will give them the basic knowledge of the technique of fishing. Officials of Ducks Unlimited will give an illustrated address. All but one will be present, and we hope that they will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend," Mr. Kellie said.

SPRING SHOW GIVEN THRILL BY HORSEMEN

Cavalry Charge Features Opening Of Galt Event —Large Crowd

Edmonton arena rang to the shouting of men and the thunder of horses' hooves as 250 members of the Royal Canadian Dragoon Band climaxed a brilliant musical ride with a realistic miniature cavalry charge that left the spectators to their feet in admiration of one of the best attractions ever staged at the Edmonton Spring Show.

For several minutes the large audience, estimated at 2,500, applauding the Royal Canadians for their magnificence, were demanding a repeat of some of the intricate evolutions of the show.

THUNDEROUS APPLAUSE

There was an entertainment feature, more than half in the press mutes and all in attendance voted it the most enjoyable of the 100 events in the past years. This is a show that can be seen several times and fresh enjoyment can be derived from it again, time, said one spectator, as the

INFLUENCE IS NOT EXERTED TOBACCO TRADE

No influence was exerted on the jobbers association by manufacturers to restrain the standard price and thereby maintain a government, H. B. McKechnie, chairman of the British Columbia Tobacco Jobbers Association, told the press yesterday at the preliminary hearing of tobacco manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers and retailers on charges of maintaining a tobacco combine.

He declined in answer to questions by H. J. Wilcox, R.C.C. commissioners, to say the tobacco price agreement was drawn up by the jobbers at the Nourse Hotel in Montreal.

It was then submitted to the manufacturers, and came back to the jobbers with minor changes suggested. These changes were discussed by the jobbers and adopted as part as being in the best interest of the tobacco industry.

The jobbers sought the holding of a hearing on the policy because they wanted to standardize the price and get the product to the consumer at the lowest price possible consistent with quality.

Law Copies Of All To Be Sent To Ottawa

Law copies of all bills passed at the eighth session of the eighth Alberta legislature, which adjourned April 3, will be forwarded to the Dominion government next week. The bills, which include a bill of peace, as well as all provinces, send three copies of each bill passed at each session, to the Dominion government.

The Dominion law officers then review the legislation and the Dominion government may then accept any provincial act.

There were 102 bills passed at the eighth session.

This means that at three copies of each bill, there will be 306 bills sent.

The copies will be sent by R. A. Anderson, clerk of the legislative assembly and when completed will be forwarded to the commandant, Toronto, provincial secretary, who will forward them to Ottawa.

Astronomy

Astronomy is the science of the stars. The sky is full of them. Stars stand alone or are clustered with movies magazines.

Stars are at considerable distance from the earth. That is why the voices of astronomers feel so lonely. They are telescope windows.

The stars, moreover, are not really about each other like dots in a department store, except that they do not close at five o'clock.

With the stars, however, Man has projected himself miles into space. He is master of the sky, except of course, when a bunch of sportspersons flies in front of the telescope.

Budget Expenses

Here's to the love-terrace bride project. Here's to belated problems of budgeting, etiquette solved long before your wedding.

What about the kennel? That belongs to the bride's budget. Choose a lady handkerchief, a little umbrella, a hat, a few pairs of slippers to match their dresses. The bride or her family also buy the trousseau, plus linens, hats, cosmetics, personal refreshments and, as a rule, the bridegroom's bouquet.

The bride's bouquet is almost always the most expensive item. The bride's dress, however, goes into a budget also includes the ring, marriage license, and clergymen's fees.

All these expenses, of course, must be settled too. Who stands first in the receiving line at the reception? Quite naturally, the bridegroom, first—then the bride's father, the groom's mother and father, the bride with the bridegroom, and the bridegroom's maids. Or vice versa. The grooms may argue alone.

Who gets the first slice of cake? The bride and she shares it with the groom.

Who wears the correct dress—st formal, informal, wedding? Our 22-page booklet settles these and many other wedding questions. Tells how

CURRICULUM STUDIED AT SCHOOL MEET

Leading U.S. Educationists Lead Discussion At Convention

A lively and interesting panel discussion on "Reorganizing the Secondary School Curriculum" was held Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist church auditorium, led by four of the leading educationists in the United States who addressed the Alberta School Teachers' convention.

Dr. Wilfred Eberhart, assistant professor of education, University of Chicago, and a member of the panel of staff of evaluation in the eight-year plan of the Progressive Education Association, spoke on the necessity of bringing about a closer union of the activities in which the students are interested. He said that unrelated subjects should point to the central task.

DISCOVER NEEDS

Before making up the curriculum for a new year, teachers should discover the needs of the district in order that they might develop a program that would give the students the greatest possible aid in solving their problems.

All curricula should be localized to a great extent, said Hilda Taba, assistant professor of education at the University of Chicago, and a member of the staff of the evaluation of the eight-year study plan. "The teacher should work with a social consciousness who will feel a responsibility to solve their situations. They will be able to take their problems and solve them," she said.

FUTURE PROBLEMS

The curriculum should not only aid the students in solving their immediate needs, but should prepare them to cope with future problems. Dr. Eberhart, assistant professor of education at University of Chicago and a member of the staff of the eight-year study plan,

Model Planes Zoom At Show

Model airplane flying may soon rise a game representing models are shown. The larger one is a five-foot, gasoline-powered flying scale model of a Beechcraft, while the tiny six-inch model between the wheels of the larger ship is a solid model of a flying plane. In the lower picture, Exhibitor Manager, Mr. R. H. Peacock, shows the fine points of a flying model to Frank Gue, 14, 19088 71 Avenue, an interested exhibitor.

"It should be localized to the needs of the society and community in which we live," he said.

"It should be a function of society and must satisfy the interest and problems of the students, cap- tain of the school," said Dr. Fred D. Tyler. He added that the curriculum must be reorganized continually and that its strength and weakness must be continually evaluated to secure the greatest possible benefit from it.

New Education Said Emerging

"The new progressive education is what might well be termed an emerging education and is keeping with the natural individual development of the child," stated Dr. Fred D. Tyler, superintendent of education of Stamford, University of California, addressing teachers at the McDougall church auditorium. The annual educational meeting was one of four sessions held in connection with the 22nd annual convention of the Alberta Teachers' Association.

Dr. Bell said that teachers have been woefully inert in educating the children to enter school, which children with no aptitude have been equally inept at choosing schools and courses of study. Teachers should be aware of the children's interest and needs and capable of focusing the child's ability to meet these needs," he said.

WILL DEVELOP

"In the future the advantages of individual development as applied to the new system of education, the speaker told his audience that any hard task that a student sets himself in development, education and self-service, and self-assured by himself is far superior and tends to develop the latent abilities of the child in a more effective way than tasks assigned by a teacher."

"Information has to be seen in its full relation to the student, who must, therefore, be given problems in research for their own information and conclusions of their own conclusions," Dr. Bell averred.

"The new education places an emphasis on individuality and uniqueness as opposed to education by memorization, although the teacher's role in education is as definite a role in education," he said.

TEACHER GROWTH

Dr. Bell declared that it is essential that the teacher should be teacher development, too, to make the new system an assured success. "The teacher must grow, and it naturally follows that there will be a corresponding growth in the child," he said.

"We must apply the teacher growth principle as we go along," he said.

"Modern education must contain some provision for single individual and single idiosyncrasies," said Dr. Bell.

MacDonald Retains Fiddlers' Trophy

LACOMBE, April 12.—J. N. B. MacDonald of Lacombe took permanent possession of the Old Time Fiddlers' cup here Monday night when he won it for the third time at the annual Alberta fiddling championships, held in the Pavilion before a large crowd.

Young, 18, of Lacombe, was beaten by Mr. David Hoden of Spruceville, while Young took the junior cup. Dan McMillan of Edmonton, 85, was awarded the senior cup as the oldest entrant in the contests.

SPRING SHOW GIVEN THRILL BY HORSEMAN

horses filed from the arena to the thunderous applause of the audience.

Young Dicky Barnes, who is a sensational boy rider, the show last year, provided a thrill in the novice hunter class when his mount, Seedy, took off too soon at the start and ran straight through the gate spilling its rider.

It looked as if young Barnes had taken a bad fall, but riding attendants and a doctor who was on the scene and after shaking the tar-bar from his clothes and regaining his balance, Barnes' mount rider was able to remount and complete his round. He was given a generous ovation by the audience in recognition of his courage which was renewed again when he returned to the ring a short time later.

PERFECT TRAINING

The Simshens' Horse musical ride has to be seen to be appreciated. The perfect training of the animals, the precision with which the intricate movements of the ride are carried out, and the picture presented of the gleaming war horses and gold helmets of the riders present a picture that can only live in the memory of Edmontonians.

While the Alberta Band, under the direction of Bert Bell, played such popular tunes as "Alouette," "Dundee," "King's Horse" and the "Reed," the Simshens' Horse show went through its program, making fine figures of eight, circles and other movements in the ring.

The show was staged by kind permission of Hon. Ian Mackay, minister of National Resources, and the Simshens' Horse, Peacock, V.C., D.S.O., M.C. officer commanding Military District No. 10.

The show was officially opened by Brigadier Peacock. He was formally invited by Fred W. Stephens, president of the Edmonton Exhibitors Association.

In opening the show, Brigadier Peacock stated that for the third year the Edmonton Exhibitors Association through the spring show had stimulated interest in good horses and had done much to improve the standard of horses and cattle in the district. He remarked that the Simshens' Horse musical ride on this year was much above the average of recent years and was a contribution to the educational and cultural life of the community.

50,000 IN STOCK

One of the noted features of the opening performance was the parade of Patriotic horses, 50,000 worth of livestock was in the ring during the set.

There were 100 units participating in the jailbird competition and the showing of the light horses and hunting classes.

The Simshens' Horse musical ride was presented by the Hudson's Bay Challenge Cup, was won by the Lord Strathcona Horse.

It was presented by Capt. G. R. Breakestone, M.C.

At the conclusion of the competition, the trophy was presented to J. K. Hill, resident manager of the Hudson's Bay store, to the Simshens'.

Another popular winner, and runner-up in the Hudson's Bay trophy class, was George Moth, owned by Capt. G. R. Breakestone, M.C.
